UNISON are calling for early talks with the Government to achieve a fair deal for NHS workers in 2024. When we eventually have an offer on the table, we will be consulting members through a ballot. Demonstrating a strong mandate in that ballot with a high turnout will help us ensure we're sending a clear message - your participation will help us win fair pay.

Last year, thousands of ballots didn't arrive, in many cases due to members not having up to date details on our system. Visit our stall to make sure we have your correct information on file and you're linked into your local branch online for updates, to be certain your voice is heard.
